

Employee Conference – Summer 2023 July 11th, 2023

All sessions are FREE and there is NO registration required! You can attend one, two or all sessions!

Please note that participation in this event may be subject to your supervisor's approval. Considering inquiring of your supervisor if this could be considered part of your position duties in the way of active engagement with campus or as a professional development opportunity.

There will NOT be any streaming or recorded options for these sessions. We realize this might prohibit some individuals from attending some or all sessions, but we hope to encourage people to leave their offices and engage in person to boost the networking aspect of the conference.

8 a.m. – 8:30 a.m.	Corrective Exercise Interventions for Office Workers: Toe to Head Location: Murphy Hall Stroup Auditorium Starting with the toes and ending at the head, this presentation will be a compilation of corrective exercise interventions I used with "desk job" clients during my 8 years of experience as a personal/group trainer and corrective exercise specialist. Disclaimer: I am not a physical therapist or medical doctor and this presentation is not intended to diagnose or treat any condition. Presenter: TJ Dempsey, Career Services & Tutoring Center Coordinator	The DSU Heritage Foundation, more than just a wallet? Location: Murphy Hall Thompson Auditorium Why is the foundation our primary fundraiser? What's the difference in a one-time and endowed scholarship? Is the foundation only responsible for money? Ty Orton, the Executive Director of the DSU Heritage Foundation, will give an overview of the important role of the DSUHF for our students and within our community and how you can engage in supporting them. Presenter: Ty Orton, Executive Director, DSU Heritage Foundation
	What's your status? Location: Murphy Hall Room 160 Though the online world may see your TEAMS status, office visitors may not realize when you are in a meeting or taking a call. You could get a manual status light or sign (purchases start around $15+) -or- you could DIY! Join us to make your own rotating status sign. Hang the sign on your computer, desk, or door and share your online status with your in-person visitors. (We will also be handing out tips for setting your TEAMS status online.) 20-30 minutes, in-person, bring your own scissors. Presenter: Marlo Sexton, Remote Course Delivery Coordinator	How You Can Contribute to Student Recruitment Location: Murphy Hall Thompson Auditorium We've been told that "recruitment is everyones job." Great! But now what?! This session will explore ways that you can contribute to student recruitment. Presenter: Stephanie Osborne, Director of Admissions
